Anti-Aging Menu

Fountain Of Youth

Even if you choose to eat a well balanced diet, stay active, and get adequate rest, you will still age. Many experts will agree that a healthy lifestyle and good nutrition determines who we become, but your body may not be absorbing all the essential nutrients required to age as gracefully as possible. This specially designed formula gets into the blood stream and scavenges harmful oxidants and slows down cellular degradation.

Skin Rejuvenation

This combination is rich in Glutathione. Glutathione is the most abundant naturally occurring anti-oxidant. It is ubiquitous, meaning that it is active in each and every cell. As we age, however, our glutathione activity slowly decreases. This decline makes our skin more vulnerable to the harmful aging effects of pollution and UV rays.

Energy Boosting Menu

Quick Drip

This is a low dose combination of vitamins and minerals that can be used as a quick "pick me up" or part of a regular program to support healthy function.

Nutritional Boost

A stronger concentration of nutrients, this IV can be used in more moderate states of low energy. This can be used as needed or part of a regular program to combat general fatigue.

Weekend Recovery

This is the perfect detoxifying IV for those who have busy social schedules and find it difficult to recover after a jam-packed weekend.

Burnout

This treatment is geared towards more severe states of low energy or chronic fatigue. This is a concentrated dose of vitamins, minerals, and trace minerals to boost a severely exhausted system.

Weight Loss

This treatment is designed to provide each cell with the essential nutrients required to boost energy production and improve metabolism. This is a great ADD-on to one of our Weight Management Programs.

Immune Boosting Menu

Immune Boost

This is a high dose combination of vitamins, minerals and amino acids to support and healthy functioning immune system. This is an incredible treatment to do regularly during our cold winter weather, when colds and flu impact us all. If you find yourself run down and sick often, this is the perfect therapy for you.

Mega C Antiviral

This is a super charged treatment that is best used when we are fighting a nasty cold or flu. The high dose of Vitamin C has immediate antiviral activity, especially against the influenza virus, without the negative uncomfortable side effects that high doses of oral Vitamin C

Sport Performance Menu

Muscle Relaxation

This formula is high in magnesium, which is the most powerful relaxation mineral available. Without it, our muscles would be in a state of constant contraction.

Performance Boost

A strong concentration of nutrients, this IV can be used to enhance sport performance.

Repair

This formula is helpful for tissue recovery after intense bouts of physical activity, for injury rehabilitation, and pain management.

Rehydrate

This is a quick IV treatment to replenish electrolytes after long sessions of physical activity.

Pain Management Menu

PMS

A combination of nutrients to help relax muscles that cramp during a menstrual period and to treat mood changes prior to menses. This IV is recommended to use 1-2x/month, in the week prior to the onset of menstrual flow.

Migraine

A formula high in magnesium to counteract pain induced by a headache or migraine. This IV can be used to treat a migraine headache to help in migraine prevention.

Peripheral Neuropathy

A combination of nutrients that are often deficient in those diagnosed with nerve type pain in their hands or feet. This formula is ideal for patients who are experienced drug related peripheral neuropathy.
